Re: Website: www.seadoosportboats.com

Dear Mr. Leclair:

It has been brought to my attention that, on your website, you are displaying the Mercury Service Manual 240 Jet Drive Electronic Fuel Injection.

This is a violation of our copyright ownership rights. As you must realize, this unauthorized and misleading use of our copyrights is confusing to the public because it creates the false impression that your business is endorsed by or affiliated with Mercury Marine.

This violation must stop immediately. If, before August 31, 2005, I receive your written statement that you have removed our Service Manuals from your website, there will be no need for Mercury Marine to retain an outside law firm to protect its rights in this matter. If however, we are forced to obtain an injunction in this matter, it is my policy to pursue all legal remedies that are available to Brunswick in order to obtain compensation for the damages that your violation causes.

I look forward to receiving your written statement so that we can avoid litigation in this matter.

Sincerely,

William D. Lanyi
Director of Intellectual Property
